Art Unit: 3635

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 2, and 21-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 2, line 2, "the locking elements" lacks an antecedent basis within the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Austrian reference 405,560 in view of any of Scheid or Nemeth or German reference 3,117,605 or German reference 29703962 when considering Roesch et al.

Austrian reference '560 discloses the configuration of attaching flat structural components as recited in claims 1-20 of the instant application. Austrian '560 does not appear to disclose any specific use of adhesive with the attaching configuration. However, each of Scheid,

Art Unit: 3635

Nemeth, German reference 3,117,605, and German reference 29703962 teach utilization of adhesive between tongue and groove joints so as to establish a secure engagement between panels of a substrate. And, Roesch et al., for example, teach utilization and advantages of various “two component” adhesives including microencapsulatable solvent adhesives that contain polymer resin and appropriate solvents as well as polyvinyl acetate base, methyl acrylate base, epoxide base etc.

To have provided the floor tile assembly of Austrian ‘560 with adhesive between and within the tongue and groove joints between the panels 1, 2, including any particular adhesive or “two component” adhesive, thus securely fastening adjacent floor tiles one to another while realizing any and all advantages of such well known adhesives or “two component adhesives”, would have constituted an obvious expedient to one of ordinary skill in the art as taught by any of Scheid or Nemeth or German reference 3,117,605 or German reference 29703962 when considering Roesch et al.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed July 17, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The motivation for combining is set forth in the above rejection. One of ordinary skill in the art would have found it obvious to utilize adhesive with the Austrian ‘560 tongue and groove panel connection for the purpose of achieving a secure connection between adjacent panels with advantages of utilizing “two component adhesives” being effected.

Art Unit: 3635

As for Applicant's argument to "...the elimination of excessive glue from seeping from a tongue and groove system..., the modification, the reason or motivation to modify the primary reference may often suggest what the inventor has done, but for a different purpose or to solve a different problem. It is not necessary that the prior art suggest the combination to achieve the same advantage or result discovered by applicant. In re Linter, 458 F.2d 1013, 173 USPQ 560 (CCPA 1972); In re Dillon, 919 F.2d 688, 16 USPQ2d 1897 (Fed. Cir. 1990), cert. denied, 500 U.S. 904 (1991). Although Ex parte Levengood, 28 USPQ2d 1300, 1302 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1993) states that obviousness cannot be established by combining references "without also providing evidence of the motivating force which would impel one skilled in the art to do what the patent applicant has done" (emphasis added), reading the quotation in context it is clear that while there must be motivation to make the claimed invention, there is no requirement that the prior art provide the same reason as the applicant to make the claimed invention. Thus, the modification of Austrian reference '560 as by providing an adhesive would serve as an appropriate rejection under 35 USC 103 as would adding a two component adhesive to thus incorporate the advantages of such an old and well known sealant material within the tongue and groove connection of Austrian '560. Further, the rationale to modify or combine the prior art does not have to be expressly stated in the prior art; the rationale may be expressly or impliedly contained in the prior art or it may be reasoned from knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art, established scientific principles, or legal precedent established by prior case law. In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988); In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347,

Art Unit: 3635

21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). See also In re Kotzab, 217 F.3d 1365, 1370, 55 USPQ2d 1313, 1317 (Fed. Cir. 2000) (setting forth test for implicit teachings); In re Eli Lilly & Co., 902 F.2d 943, 14 USPQ2d 1741 (Fed. Cir. 1990) (discussion of reliance on legal precedent); In re Nilssen, 851 F.2d 1401, 1403, 7 USPQ2d 1500, 1502 (Fed. Cir. 1988) (references do not have to explicitly suggest combining teachings).

With regard to Applicant's assertion that Roesch et al. "is such a divergent art from the Austrian reference 405,560", one of ordinary skill in the building substrate surfacing art would look to the adhesive art in order to uncover an appropriate glue for use with connecting tongue and groove panels.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
